

A GREAT NATION'S GRIEF.

THE LOSS TO THE STATE IN NEW-YORK.

ALBANY, Sept. 20.—There is scarcely a street in the city that has not some emblem displayed in mourning for the President, and in many instances the drapery is very elaborate. Business was almost entirely suspended to-day. The following tenders of escort were telegraphed to-day:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW-YORK,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, Sept. 20, 1861.

To Hon. ROBERT LINCOLN, Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

His Excellency Governor Cornell, Commander-in-Chief, directs me to inform you that he desires to consider the remains of the late President Garfield as worthy of a military escort to the State of New-York.

The Adjutant General, in view of the services as rendered by the late Governor, and the manner in which the late President Garfield's remains were received here with profound sorrow, the following tenders of escort were telegraphed to-day:

FEEDERICK TOWNSEND, Adjutant-General.

To Hon. WAYNE MACVEAGH, Attorney, N. Y.

The Adjutant General, in view of the services as

rendered by the late Governor, and the manner in which

the late President Garfield's remains were received here with profound sorrow, the following tenders of escort were telegraphed to-day:

J. C. CHASE, President, Associated A. C. S., Albany, N. Y.

The following reply was received this morning:

ELMERSON, N. J., Sept. 20.
Your kind messages received. It is not expected to pass the day in New-York.

At a meeting of the new Capitol Commissioners today, resolution was passed to adjourn and direct the Superintendent to suspend work on the day of his funeral were adopted.

At the annual meeting of the State Bar Association to-day, the president, Sherman S. R. Rogers of Buffalo, invited the Rev. James Wilson, of New York, to open the meeting with prayer, which he did, alluding in touching language to the late President Garfield and his family.

The president then made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. Albert Matthews, chairman of the Executive Committee, spoke.

Mr. Rogers, in his address, referred to the departure of the President, and provided that, as a token of respect to the memory of the departed chief, all the processional services for to-day be dispensed with, and all reported papers, instead of being read, be submitted in silence.

They were adopted.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The hotels, places of business and offices all through the town are draped in mourning for President Garfield's death. At noon all the bells have rung fifty strokes. A public meeting is called for this evening.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The announcement of the President's death was made by tolling of bells, followed by a general suspension of business, a universal display of flags at half-mast, and of mourning on public and private buildings. The deepest gloom pervades all classes of people. The officers of the Syracuse banks met in their meeting-room, and, after a brief conference, decided to overrule the death of President Garfield, and solve to close the city banks until after the funeral obsequies.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The news of President Garfield's death was received here with profound sorrow to-morrow night to take action regarding the death of President Garfield. The request is also made that residents, drap their houses and places of business in respect to the memory of the deceased.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 20.—Omaha mourns the President's death. The five bell and the Roman Catholic Cathedral have been tolled since the arrival of the sad news.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The announcement of the President's death was made by tolling of bells, followed by a general suspension of business, a universal display of

flags at half-mast, and of mourning on public and private buildings. The deepest gloom pervades all classes of people. The officers of the Syracuse banks met in their meeting-room, and, after a brief conference, decided to overrule the death of President Garfield, and solve to close the city banks until after the funeral obsequies.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 20.—Major Courtney, issued a call for a public meeting of the citizens to-morrow evening to take such action as will bear witness that in common with their fellow-countrymen everywhere, they deplore the loss which, by the death of President Garfield, the Union has sustained.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here with a universal expression of grief, and the citizens of the city and of the churches were tolled from 1 p. m. to 1 p. m. All the stores were closed and the public buildings and stores draped in mourning. A general meeting was held to-morrow night at the City Hall to-night.

RAILTON, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The death of the President causes the deepest gloom here. The entire town is one shroud of mourning. The bells have been tolling and deep sorrow is experienced by the people who attend the streets.

SENeca FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The entire business portion of the town and many private dwellings are draped in mourning. Bells are tolling and flags are flying.

ONEIDA, N. Y., Sept. 20.—A meeting of the citizens was held here, at noon today, presided over by Mayor Failing, and addressed by Dr. G. E. Sloan and the Rev. David Quay. Committees were appointed to make arrangements for a mass meeting to be held at some future date, to give expression to the sentiments of this community on the death of the President. The city is prepared to do its duty.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 20.—This village is draped in black. Flags are flying at half-mast, and the most profound sorrow is felt here over the death of President Garfield.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Profound sorrow prevails here. The entire business portion of the city is draped in black.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 20.—The fire-alarm and church bells were tolled an hour last night. To-day the buildings are generally dressed in mourning, and the flags are everywhere draped at half-mast.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The news of President Garfield's death was received with deep grief by all. At midnight the church bells throughout the city were tolled. This morning flags are at half-mast, and almost every building and private house is draped in mourning. Some mark may be given to every person manifested sorrow.

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The public buildings, stores and dwellings are draped in mourning. An excursion returned yesterday immediately on hearing of the President's arrival home to-night. Harry Field, the President's son, passed through this city from Williams-

College to-morrow. His brother James is sick at Wilton, with malaria, but will start for Washington to-morrow.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The city is in mourning. All the public offices, courts and Board of Trade are closed. The public buildings and business places are all draped in mourning, and the majority of the private residences are also draped in black. A general suspension of business has been ordered, and business generally suspended.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—At the announcement of the President's death here to-night, all the bells were tolled by order of the Mayor. There is a great depression of feeling, and business is almost suspended.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 20.—Flags are at half-mast in all the public buildings, and business places are all draped in mourning. The Board of Trade adjourned to meet again to-morrow.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—There was but one session of the Stock Board and Mining Exchange to-day on account of the death of the President. Throughout the city the news has affected occupations of every kind, and in many places flags were placed at half-mast. The United States District Court and municipal courts adjourned the former until Tuesday. The various news-offices have their flags draped. At a special meeting this afternoon of the board of censors of the City Councils appropriate resolutions of respect on the death of President Garfield were passed. All the public offices and courts are closed.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—There was but one session of the Stock and Mining Exchange to-day on account of the death of the President. The news of the President's death here to-night has affected every kind of business, and in many places flags were placed at half-mast. The Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to draft resolutions of condolence and self-sacrifice, and concurred in the action of the stock and mining exchanges.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 20.—A meeting of the Bar was held to-day and General G. H. Gordon, the most ranking officer in the city, of the late Confederacy, presided.

Resolutions of respect on the death of President Garfield were passed. All the public offices and courts are closed.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 20.—The following programme has been adopted for the reunion of Northern and Southern armies at a joint meeting where ex-President Garfield is to speak. A procession will take place, as previously arranged, and it is expected that the standards will be draped, and the members will wear emblems of mourning. Requiem services will be held at the greeting on Cameron Hill, and in the afternoon at the White House, acclaimed by cheering thousands.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—This village is draped in black. Flags are flying at half-mast, and the most profound sorrow is felt here over the death of President Garfield.

MONROVIA, N. S., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received with profound sorrow by all classes.

BUSYNESS HOUSES ARE DRAPED IN MOURNING.

Business houses are draped in mourning, and the flags throughout the city are at half-mast.

NEW ENGLAND'S EXPRESSIONS OF GRIEF.

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 20.—Stamford is shrouded in mourning. Every store and business place is draped in funeral embalms. At noon to-day the bells were tolled by order of the Mayor. There is a great depression of feeling, and business is almost suspended.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 20.—Flags are at half-mast in all the public buildings, and business places are all draped in mourning to-night. The Board of Trade adjourned to meet again to-morrow.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received with great sorrow. By order of the mayor the bells were tolled. The news-paper bulletins are surrounded by black bands, waiting for every scrap of news from Long Branch.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was announced here by the tolling of bells at eleven o'clock last night. Flags are at half-mast, and the general draping of buildings is now going on.

THE FEELING IN THE WEST.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Evidences of the universal respect for the dead President appeared at the earliest hour of the day in half-masted flags on hotels, newspaper offices and other buildings, together with the prompt action of many citizens in draping their houses and business places.

The Board of Trade met, and there was no disposition to do business, and an immediate adjournment was the consequence. The deep-seated sorrow that fills all hearts manifests itself in the profoundest and most widespread expressions of regret at the country's loss and of sympathy for the bereaved family. Dispatches from many places in Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Minnesota, and similar expressions of the earnest feeling of sadness that has been manifested over the land. The people in all sections of the northwest are deeply moved by the tolling of bells, and, until a late hour in the night, the streets were crowded by anxious men eager to hear the latest news.

The Government and City offices are draped in black and will be closed when the Governor and National authorities agree upon a day for that purpose. Down town on the day of the funeral service, on streets leading to the suburbs, evidences of sorrow are seen in the most unexpected places.

The City Councils are in session, and the news of the President's death was received here by the tolling of bells at midnight last long after midnight, and caused the streets and public places to be filled with the extraordinary scenes of the news-papers containing accounts of the President's death.

S. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—A joint meeting of the members of the Merchants' Exchange, Cotton Exchange, Mechanics' Exchange, Real Estate Exchange and of bankers, merchants and business men generally of this city was held at the hall of the Merchants' Exchange to-day, to give expression to their feelings and sentiments regarding the death of the President Garfield. Resolutions were adopted expressing the highest admiration for the President.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the theatres and places of amusement are closed. Minute guns are being fired in honor of the dead.

BROOKLYN, N. J., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the theatres and places of amusement are closed, and request that there be a suspension of buildings throughout the city.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the theatres and places of amusement are closed, and request that there be a suspension of buildings throughout the city.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the theatres and places of amusement are closed, and request that there be a suspension of buildings throughout the city.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The news of the Presi-

dent's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the theatres and places of amusement are closed, and request that there be a suspension of buildings throughout the city.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The news of the President's death was received here this morning with profound sorrow and regret. Crowds of people are gathered on the streets discussing the sad news, and it has cast a gloom over the city. The city is being draped in mourning, and the